JB: Yes, but I also did 21 Politics as a major strand.

TUTOR: And you graduated in 1989. And I see you have been doing some teaching...

JB: Yes. I worked as a volunteer teacher in 22 West Africa. I was there for almost three years in total from 23 1990 to... umm... 1992.

TUTOR: How interesting. What organisation was that with?

JB: It's not one of the major ones. It's called 24 Teach South.

TUTOR: Oh, right. Yes, I have heard of it. It operates in several African countries, doesn't it? And what kind of school was it?

JB: A rural co-operative.

TUTOR: Oh, a 25 rural co-operative, how interesting... and what did you teach?

JB: A variety of things in different years... ummm... I did... with Forms 1 to 3 mainly 26 Geography and some English with Form 27 5. Then in my final year, I took on some Agricultural Science with the top year... that's Form 6.

TUTOR: Right. Quite a variety then...

JB: I also ran the school farm.

TUTOR: How interesting!

TUTOR: ...And how did you find the whole experience?

JB: I'll be honest with you. At the end of the first year I really wanted to leave and come home.

TUTOR: Why was that?

NOTES (continued)
Reasons for wanting to leave in first year:	• 28 <input type="text" value="Type correct answers here"/> • few teaching resources
Reasons for wanting to extend tour:	• success of cattle breeding project • obtained funds for farm buildings
Reasons for wanting to train to teach Geography:	• It is his 29 <input type="text" value="Type correct answers here"/> • It has many 30 <input type="text" value="Type correct answers here"/>

JB: Well... I was 28 very homesick at first and missed my family...

TUTOR: Umm... I can quite understand that.

JB: ...and I also found it frustrating to have so few teaching resources, but I did decide to stay and in the end I extended my tour to a third year.

TUTOR: Right. Things must have looked up then?

JB: Yes. We set up a very successful project breeding cattle to sell locally.

TUTOR: Really?

JB: And then after a lot of hard work we finally got funds for new farm buildings.

TUTOR: And you wanted to see things through?

JB: Uh-huh.

TUTOR: And is that why you want to train to teach Geography?

JB: Yes. I've had a couple of jobs since then but I now realise I like teaching best. And I chose Geography because... because it is my 29 favourite subject... and also because I think it has so 30 many useful applications.

TUTOR: Well... you certainly have had some interesting work experience. I'll ask you now to go on to the next stage of...
